VETERANS ILL FED, ABUSED, SAYS REPORT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—Serious conditions exist at the Soldiers Home at Yountville, according to a report by an investigating committee named by the National War Veterans' Association, National Indian War Veterans, and the National American Indian Veterans of the Republic. Removal of the board of directors is asked.

Inhuman treatment and malnutrition are the lot of the veterans, it is alleged.

Charges include the following: Clothing is sparse; several veterans have but one uniform, some none, many wear ragged and dirty garb.

Floes cover the dining tables. Living rooms are small, dark and ill ventilated.

Sick men lie in bed for days without medical attention.

The hospital annex, with its 29 beds, is a horror to other inmates. Isaac Bright remained ill in bed nine days, refusing to go to the hospital.

There is a shortage of underclothing. The inmates have but one pair of shoes apiece and these are in poor condition.

One man's shoes had no outer sole on them and he had no shirt. He appeared for Sunday evening dinner in a ragged undershirt.

Food is often unsuitable, sour and unfit, causing sickness.

Vegetables unfit for human consumption have been received by the quartermaster.

The surgeon is declared "temporarily unfit for the position."

The committee asserts that these conditions exist largely because of divided authority between the board of control, the board of directors and employees.

The governor is recommended to name an entire new board of directors, composed of veterans of all wars. It is charged that at present the board is "a political haven for jobless politicians."

Signing the report are J. F. W. Unfug, Capt. A. H. Aldrich, Lieut. Thomas Bonhamman, Max Schick, F. A. Lorenz, Andrew Briggs and J. H. Dolan.

St. Mary's College Term to Be Opened

The colleges of arts and letters and of engineering will open at St. Mary's College, Broadway at Hawthorne street, on September 2.

The pre-college departments have been open since August 13.

When higher departments open next week, the registration is expected to total 600. Of this number there will be a large portion of ex-servicemen. This will include three wounded French soldiers and three wounded Americans who will receive a scholarship from the college as a token of their part in the war. The soldiers will be educated through a foundation created for the purpose.

Brother Gregory will continue his presidency during the coming term. Father Lewis will be prefect of studies, and Brothers Leo and V. Leo will be in charge of the arts and letters college and the engineering college respectively.

CHILDREN ACT IN SPECTACULAR PAGEANT; YOUNGSTERS AT PLAYGROUND IN REVEL

The summer dramatic classes in the Mosswood, Tompkins, De Fremery, Golden Gate and Bushrod playgrounds, presented an hour of little plays under the direction of MRS. EMILIE HOLLINGTON, who has taught the children to express themselves and not imitate others. "The Enchanted Garden" and "The Tree Triumphant" were the inspirational dramas which the Recreation Department designated for the first dramatic program under the trees.

Home Industry Club to Give Luncheon

Professor Elwood Mead of the University of California will be the principal speaker at the luncheon to be given by the Home Industry Club in honor of the advisory committee of the California Industries and Land Show at the Palace hotel in San Francisco, Thursday, September 4.

H. C. Capwell, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, is one of the members of the advisory committee, which includes heads of practically every chamber of commerce and board of trade and other commercial bodies of California.

Baldwin Vale, president of the Home Industries League, will preside at the luncheon.

"Little Theater" of Dramatic Scholars Is Sward Under Park Oaks at Local Playgrounds

They were all queens, fairies, flowers, creatures of beauty and fantasy. Within their souls those hundreds of rosy, happy girls were what they wanted to be. They lived in the "Enchanted Garden."

They sported with Pan, the elves, the birds, the winds, the waters.

Down at the de Fremery park, Friday, under the oaks and across the broad lawns, the summer classes in dramatics in the Mosswood, Tompkins, de Fremery, Golden Gate and Bushrod made their debut as thespians, with proud mothers and fathers and curious strangers gathered about.

It was an experiment on the part of the Recreation Department to offer the hour of little plays performed by scores of youngsters who, strangers to each other, had met but three times before to rehearse the scenes which would tell the story of Constance d'Arroy MacKay's "Enchanted Garden" and "The Tree Triumphant" based on the plays of Carolyn Wells and Martina Bayles.

They were all stars. Every girl had the purple and blue of the little Hollington, who has been telling the stories which have been acted out through the summer and teaching the children to be natural and express themselves in simple drama.

Left perfect freedom to each youngster. The result was a medley of dancing, motion, color, original creation, ending in a great burst of patriotic fervor as the animated forest things met and the chorus of childish voices rose in the national anthem.

Black robed crowds cawed from the low branches when inspiration suggested to small actors that it was time to descend and participate in the pageant.

Elements mingled in happy unit, and childish simplicity to give two refreshingly natural dramas. Processions of bright coloring from behind clumps of bushes gave brilliant note to the spectacle.

A young prompter with book and voice followed the story and offered hint of the development of the play which was being presented.

TRIBUNE-KINEMA FILMS POPULAR

Oakland's first motion picture newspaper, the Tribune-Kinema Weekly, presenting the snappiest East Bay events and items of particular local interest, is becoming every week a more popular number on the program of the Kinema theater.

While the motion picture news service was inaugurated through the cooperation of THE TRIBUNE editorial staff and the management of the Kinema theater, a short time ago, it has already won a prominent place in the interest of the Eastbay public.

Motion pictures of Oakland events and Oakland people have sent thrills to the Kinema theater to "see themselves as others see them." And the range of items throughout the region around this side of the bay has made the demand for the weekly so great that a constantly increasing number of the showings of the pictures has been devised.

The Tribune-Kinema motion picture news weekly is now being shown in the leading theaters of San Leandro, Fruitvale, Alameda, Richmond, as well as in three theaters in Oakland, and other theaters have been promised a place in the circuit as soon as it can be arranged.

This week's release now being shown at the Kinema theater includes: "Purifications," the first post-war reunion of the 143rd Field Artillery; scientific methods applied to solved clothes; the mid-week band concert at the Moore shipyard; and the play and pageant given by the children of the Oakland playgrounds at De Fremery park.

Robert Robertson to Don Army Gas Mask

How a gas mask is adjusted when a gas alarm is sounded at the battle front will be demonstrated by Robert Robertson, who spent many months during the war in the midst of flying shells as a Y. M. C. A. entertainer, during his talk on his overseas experiences at an entertainment to be given at the Auditorium next Thursday evening under the joint auspices of the Merchants' Exchange and the Rotary club.

Robertson brought home with him all of the paraphernalia that he used as an entertainer overseas and he will do some quick changes during the evening that he may more effectively bring home his remarks to the audience. His gas mask will be used in explaining the necessary adjunct of modern warfare equipment. Trench songs, Scotch songs and dances will be features of the entertainment.

How Carnegie Started

as he looked at twenty

ANDREW CARNEGIE, who recently left a fortune of $400,000, began at $1.20 a week. When in his early twenties, earning $50 a month, his opportunity came. Thomas A. Scott, Pittsburgh Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railway, whose private secretary Carnegie was, asked him if he could find $500 to invest. Carnegie said he could, though he had no idea where the money was coming from. The savings of the frugal Carnegie family had recently been used to buy a small home, but the mother, "to give our boy a chance," mortgaged the home to an uncle. The $500 went to buy ten shares of Adams Express Company stock.

Note: His first dividend check set Carnegie thinking, and showed him in which direction fortune lay.

TRANSCRIPT IN BOCK CASE HAS BEEN DENIED

Transcript of the hearing of the Civil Service Board into the appeal of Captain of Police Charles Bock, last week, will be the bone of contention tomorrow night when the hearing is resumed. City Attorney H. L. Hagan has made demand on the Civil Service Board for the transcript, which has not been made, the board having decided to keep the transcript notes taken by its reporter, purely for reference in case it is needed later. Hagan has asked that the reporter be ordered to make the transcript. The Civil Service Board objects to spending the money for transcripts unless they are deemed vital in the conduct of the case.

If Hagan obtains a transcript, Judge W. H. Donahue, defending Bock, also will demand one. At the hearing last Tuesday night Donahue asked for a transcript, and Hagan replied that "There was no provision for the city's spending money to furnish the defense with a transcript."

TRANSCRIPT REFUSED. Secretary Frank Colburn of the board then stated that the transcript would not be made, that the board's custom was to file the shorthand notes purely for its own protection and to keep its records clear.

"The first I heard of it was when Hagan asked for a transcript Saturday," said Colburn. "I thought that he had given up the idea, especially as there is nothing in the transcript of any value anyhow. It is too late now to make a transcript in time for the Tuesday hearing, and would not order the expenditure of so much money anyhow without sanction by the board."

"If Hagan wanted a report he was at liberty to bring his own reporter to the hearing. The board only makes shorthand notes for its own files."

CLAIMS HE'S ENTITLED TO IT. Hagan says that in court proceedings transcripts are always entitled to transcripts, and contends that this should be handled in the same manner. At the same time he does not see where the city can spend money for transcripts for the defendant. The Bock case was adjourned last Tuesday night after a meeting marked by wrangling and bickering between the attorneys in the case until tomorrow night. The board has several witnesses to offer in the case, in which Bock is accused of negligence in duty in failing to inform his superior officers of graft in Chinatown.

Bock's defense is that under the police department rules he was supposed to keep the chief of police informed regarding suspected crime and that he had always done so. Chief of Police J. J. Lynch testified in his defense Tuesday night.

Trestle Glen Closed to Camping Parties

Trestle Glen will henceforth be closed to campers. Notice to that effect was served today by the Walter Leimert Company, who own the beautiful tract. Trestle Glen has answered the need of the municipal camping grounds maintained by cities throughout California. Automobile parties arriving in Oakland in search of a site have been very generally directed to the Glen which has been populated throughout the season with campers for periods of days. With hotel and apartment houses increasingly full, motorists have more and more adopted the practice of equipping themselves with camping outfits. In answer to the demand, patrolmen have directed visitors to Trestle Glen. Camping will in the future be prohibited upon the property.

Vocational High School Gives Boys and Girls Rare Chance

Education as a practical means of earning a livelihood is recognized by high schools and universities. Vocational training as a solution to the problem which was being faced by boards of education when hundreds of boys and girls left school, restless under inelastic courses of study, has been established. Granting entrance to the state universities to students completing a four year vocational course who have graduated from an accredited high school under a ruling of the university authorities and the state board of education, makes a prohibition which has existed many years. Opening vocational classes in high schools to any eighth grade grammar school graduate or any student training in a vocational school, reached the seventh grade, provides an opportunity for a practical education to large numbers of children who otherwise would never continue their studies.

The Oakland Vocational High School is a beneficiary under the Smith-Hughes Act, drawing from federal funds something like $11,000 this year for the maintenance of vocational training, which in the language of the state board of education "is intended to provide so far as is possible, as finished education in preparation for those who have entered or intend to enter employment without securing a schooling beyond that provided by elementary and secondary schools."

ENTRANCE IS ASSURED. Later should a boy or girl wish to continue on through the university, the entrance is assured. The federal funds are supplemented by funds through the regular channels.

By a carefully worked out program, shop work and related subjects alternate daily with book work. The Oakland Vocational High School, enabling organization on a commercial basis, giving to the student actual shop conditions and also to those who otherwise would be barred by expense of continuing at school, an opportunity to obtain a position in an outside shop at apprenticeship wages, returning to classrooms on alternate days or weeks. By putting two students on the same job the result is obtained. School authorities take charge of finding jobs for the deserving students. Limited to 20 students, individual instruction is assured and progress dependent only upon ability and application.

Trade courses for boys include auto repairing, blacksmithing, carpentry, cabinet making, electrical work, machine shop work, pattern making, architectural drafting, machine drafting, printing, plane tuning and player action repair. Trade courses for girls cover dressmaking, millinery, home economics, printing, architectural drafting, commercial design, including costume and millinery design, interior decoration, and retail selling.

STUDENTS ARE ASSISTED.

Subjects related to the trades and taken in connection with the vocational training are English, which is presented through the medium of the particular branch in which the student is interested; mechanical drawing, free hand drawing, mathematics and science, laboratory methods, supplementing class recitation and demonstration work.

Civics, economics, United States history, occupations, physical training, hygiene and music are subjects not directly applied to the trades which form a part of the courses in Smith-Hughes classes.

An hour before the attempted suicide, Mrs. Covington and the sailor quarreled, the disturbance calling the police from the Park station. At the time she was struck by the intoxicated sailor. BIG DISPLAY AT STATE FAIR IS ADVOCATED

Fred D. Parsons of the Judson Iron Manufacturing company, spoke briefly at a luncheon held at noon today by the manufacturers' committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce concerning the importance of making a big display of the manufactured products of Alameda county at the state fair in Sacramento beginning next Saturday, the 30th inst., and running until August 31st, the 9th of September.

"Some of our citizens do not yet realize that Alameda county is the foremost industrial county of the state," said Mr. Parsons, "but that is true, and this entire county is growing faster than any other community in the state. We are proud of our agricultural and horticultural resources, of course, and we have shown time and again that we can go in and win the first prizes in all those departments when we care to take the trouble, but the development of our manufacturing interests is comparatively new, so we ought to make as much of it as possible in order to help bring new factories here. Everybody knows that one industry planted in Alameda county will attract others, for practical manufacturers know that it is absolutely necessary to have an industrial population in order to get efficient mechanics and operatives."

"Do you know when our county's industrial development dates from? Most of us realize that it grew out of the interest that was stirred up in our county as a result of the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco, and let me tell you that the growth came from the activities of the Alameda county development commission, then known as the exposition commission, for it was an era of exhibitions."

"I remember that the manufacturers' committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce was a powerful factor in supporting the commission, and they have reaped a generous reward for every dollar put into publicity during the exposition our manufacturers and the county at large have got back hundreds of dollars. If I said thousands, it might not be oversteating the proposition."

"As I said before, our fields and orchards will be well represented at Sacramento this year. Edwin Stearns and W. D. Nichols are attending to those departments. The development commission is composed of M. G. Callaghan, Wells Drury, F. A. Leach Jr. and Harry G. Williams, and they are striving to put Alameda county on the map as a first-class factory district. In addition to the exhibits which will be placed in the machinery hall and a few that have been accepted for the galleries of the agricultural and horticultural pavilion, the county supervisors have provided a tent that is 75 feet by 80 feet in size and all manufacturers are urged to make a showing of their best products."

"Just one word more: If our manufacturers do not get an adequate representation at Sacramento this year it will not be the fault of the members of the Alameda County Development Commission, for they are giving their time and their efforts to this undertaking, without reward beyond the satisfaction of serving the community unselfishly and helping to make a better place for all of us to live in."

Mr. Parsons has been engaged to superintend the installation of the manufactured products that are to be shown in the tent, which will be next to machinery hall, and one of the first things to be seen by visitors as they go into the main entrance to the fair grounds.

CITY TO FORCE ACTION ON R.R. REPAIR WORK

Unless action is taken within 30 days by the Railroad Administration to repair tracks and street crossings on Southern Pacific track on Seventh street, from Bay to Follis, and crossings at Fifth and Cypress, and Fifth and Kirkman streets, the city will take steps to force the work.

This was announced today by Commissioner of Streets William J. Baccus. Baccus presented a large sheet of correspondence, being copies of his letters to the Railroad Administration, asking that the improvements be made, and answers that "The matter would be looked into."

"We have let this matter stall along two years," said Baccus, "during the war that was all right, but it won't do now. I want to serve notice here and now, that unless action is taken by the railroads within the next 30 days I will not bring into this council proceedings to force this work through. I am not going to fool around on this matter at all."

Commissioner W. H. Edwards supported Baccus' stand.

The council today considered routine street business and passed on financial matters. The application of the U. P. E. C. society for $300 to entertain delegates to their coming convention in September was referred to Commissioner Edwards.

Battalion Fire Chief G. W. Whitman of San Francisco appeared before the council to protest the improvement of Jefferson street from First to Seventh, he being one of the property holders on the street. He said that the property holders were willing as a rule to sell for 70 per cent of their property's cost, that it was inoperative and that many owners were in dire poverty.

"We helped put Baccus back," he declared, "and now we don't want Baccus to put us back. He asked that the improvement be delayed a year. The matter was laid over until tomorrow."

MRS. DENISON, 84, CALLED BY DEATH

Following a brief illness, Mrs. Margaret Blair Denison, pioneer of this city and widow of the late Oscar Denison, one of Oakland's earliest settlers, is dead at her home here.

Mrs. Denison was 84 years of age, and was the mother of A. Denison, former secretary of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce; Albert N. Denison, Leland W. Denison and George H. Denison of Oakland, Leland Denison of Los Angeles, and W. B. Denison, deceased. She is also survived by three grandchildren.

Mrs. Denison was a native of Vermont, where she was born in 1831, and was the daughter of William Blair, who came to this country from Scotland. She was one of 12 children, all of whom have died. One of her brothers, Walter Blair, was a pioneer settler of Oakland, and William Blair, another brother, was also prominent in the city's early affairs.

She was a teacher in Vermont until 1856, when she wedded Denison, and after settling in Illinois, they moved to this city in 1857. Denison was prominent in the realty business up to the time of his death in 1912. The couple celebrated their golden wedding in 1901.

Mrs. Denison was actively identified with the Baptist church and was a former president of the State Home Missionary Society.

The funeral will take place tomorrow at 3 o'clock at the Truman chapel.

Gobs Stranded Here; Ships at Monterey

Attracted by the announcement of preparations that were being made by Oakland for entertaining the "Gobs" on the Pacific fleet, John Pynes and Everett Ellison, are stranded here and have appealed to the police to get transportation to Monterey, where their ships are stationed. They were stranded five days' leave at San Diego when they lost their transportation in Oakland, they said.

"Soul of Sequoia" to Be Under the Highest Trees

MARGARET HARVEY.

Annual Music Festival Will Be Inaugurated Amid Natural Wonders of Big Basin.

The highest trees in the world encircle the natural amphitheater in a forest primeval where the inauguration of an annual state forest play will be held September 5, in the presentation at California Redwood Park of "The Soul of the Sequoia."

Margaret Harvey, of Oakland, contractor at the San Diego exposition, is among those who have donated their services to the affair. She has been the soloist of Los Angeles civic Christmas Eve celebrations.

Other singers to be heard at the redwoods include Mrs. Olga Drusian and Mrs. Dorothy Rockwell, lyric sopranos of San Jose, and Phoebe Lorraine Harvey, lyric soprano of Los Angeles.

Miss Anita Wright and her company of dancers from the Ruth St. Dennis troupe; Charles Kellogg, nature man and interpreter of bird language, and A. M. Weaver, assistant warden of the park with the wild deer he has trained to answer his call, will participate.

In addition to the forest play, September 6 will be State Builders' Day at California Redwood Park, and builders from all parts of California will be there.

Bystanders helped Miss Nelson beat off the dogs. The young woman was treated by a physician in the neighborhood. The owner of the dogs was notified to keep them locked up until they can be removed to the city pound. The animals will be examined for the rabies.

HISTORY OF WOMAN'S SOUL TELLS PRICE SHE PAID FOR POSITION

Elinor Glyn's daring story, "The Career of Katharine Bush," today and all week at the Kinema.

Celebrated for her outspoken analysis of the motives of the human heart, and her graphic delineation of soul history, Elinor Glyn tells a yet more daring story in "The Career of Katharine Bush," a Paramount-Artcraft production, today and all this week at the Kinema.

How a penniless beauty with brains and a ruthless desire for position used her power to attract men to gain her ambition—and at what a price—revealed in this amazing story by the author of "Three Weeks." "She had tasted of the use of knowledge with her eyes open and the fruit that she had eaten was too dangerously sweet for continuous food. She seemed to hear his voice and feel his kisses, until the longing for realization became unbearable, and she felt forward and lay there on the rug beating the floor with her hands."

A Flagg satirical comedy, Pathé novelty, and TRIBUNE-Kinema Weekly are on the same program. At the Franklin, "Men, Women and Money" with Lew Cody, Ethel Clayton, Sylvia Ashton, Irving Cummings, and a quality cast—Advertisement.

10 DAYS GIVEN TO APPREHEND DR. THOMPSON

Dr. James E. Thompson, Oakland physician who disappeared while under two indictments for alleged illegal operations, is still alive, local police officers declared today, and on their statement that they believe he soon will be captured. Police Judge George Smith gave over the case until September 4. This gives the bonding company which put up $25,000 for Dr. Thompson 10 days in which to help apprehend him so the bail will not be forfeited.

Captain of Detectives Petersen and Assistant Prosecuting Attorney DeLoach joined in the request to Judge Smith to extend the time before declaring the money forfeited. Captain Petersen indicated that a clew had been found to the fugitive's whereabouts.

A reward of $1000 has been offered for the arrest of Dr. Thompson.

He was arrested first on July 17 on charge of performing an illegal operation on Mrs. Marie Karkov. A similar charge was preferred against him August 6 in connection with an operation alleged to have been performed on Lida Karkov.

Several reports were received by the police, indicating that the physician had fled for the Mexican border, but the latest tidings are said to disprove that theory.

Ten Chinese, Opium, Are Taken in Raid

The cases of ten Chinese, charged with violating the state poison act, were put over to August 26 this morning by Police Judge George Smith. They were taken in a raid last night at 371 Ninth street, where a large amount of opium was seized, besides complete smoking paraphernalia. Each Chinese is at liberty on $200 bail.

Boys and Girls Gladly Sit Up All Night to Enroll at Schools

HUNDREDS ARE UNABLE TO GET NAME ON ROLL

Lad Sits on Curb and Weeps
Because There is No Room for Him in Oakland School;
32,000 Are on the Register

He sat slumped over on the curb. The sun beat hot upon him, but he minded not. A rosy cheek rested dejectedly in the cup of a small hand. The schoolbooks he held by a leather strap had spilled out of his lap, food for grasshoppers. Slowly, the storm gathered and a healthy tear rolled down his face.

"What is the matter, my little man?" questioned Worldly Wise. "Oh, oh," choked the boy. "School's open and I can't go."

Worldly Wise collapsed and only the high coo of crying saved him from a slab at the morgue.

Approximately 32,000 pupils went to school in Oakland today when the fall term opened. Many were turned away to seek accommodations, and the eagerness of the children to attend presented a strange contrast to the familiar picture of the reluctant youth dragging himself to school after a vacation.

All last night youngsters eager to enroll at the Technical high school sat on the steps of that institution waiting for the doors to open this morning. With ukuleles, song and hot coffee, the hours were whittled away. Some of the children, wrapped in heavy blankets procured from neighboring homes, caught a few winks of sleep, but they were wide awake when day dawned.

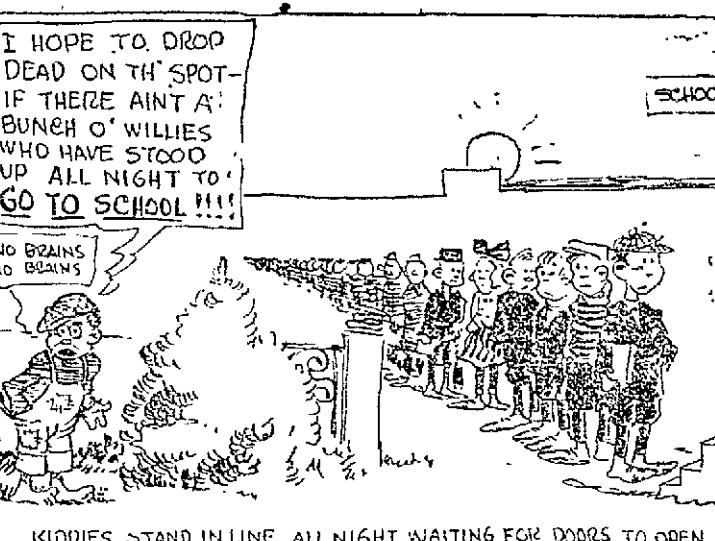

It was 10:15 last night when Pearl Ripley, of 79 Rio Vista avenue, arrived at Technical high, accompanied by Georgia Wilkie, a senior in the school, who offered to sit through the night with her chum to make certain that the newcomer would be enrolled. Miss Ripley was proud today of her enrollment card, which was No. 1. She is a graduate of Piedmont avenue grammar school.

THREE BOYS GET IN LINE
"Almost immediately after we got here, three boys from Durant school came to get in line," she said. "Then a little later a lady came with her little girl, and they waited all night. The lady brought some coffee. By 1 o'clock this morning there were about fifteen here. By 5 o'clock, there were 100. It seemed like when they opened the doors about 7 o'clock, but I wasn't a bit sleepy."

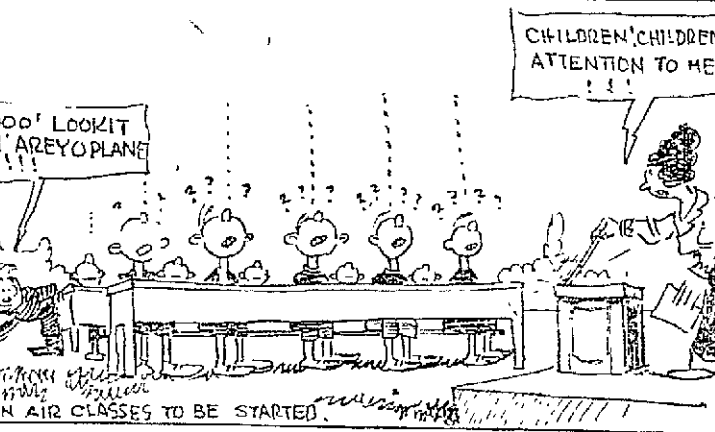

A few minutes after 8 o'clock, the limit was reached in the number of new pupils for whom accommodation was afforded. Registration was taken until there were 550 given numbered cards, when it was decided to turn all others away with directions to come Wednesday morning.

The old pupils at Technical high came this afternoon. The school will accommodate only 2050, and even with Berkeley, Alameda and other COMMUNITIES OUTSIDE OAKLAND PRELUDED FROM THE LIST, THE NUMBER WILL EXCEED THAT BY SEVERAL HUNDRED.

YOUNGSTERS THROUG SCHOOL
The youngsters thronged to the school today, their grammar school diplomas bulging from their pockets. One boy brought his Sunday school diploma by mistake. He had to go back home to rectify this error. Principal P. M. Fisher sat on the steps in the auditorium and answered students' questions.

At Oakland and University high schools, the pupils also arrived early and there was a crowd when the first teachers came.

Due to the failure to complete 20 unit buildings that were planned, classes were arranged for today in corridors, basement assembly halls and other emergency places.

HOLD CLASSES UNDER TREES
At Embarcadero school, classes probably will be held under the trees. Furniture has been sent to the school, in the belief that this will be necessary.

Several Oakland teachers have not returned from vacation trips to Hawaii, due to the steamer congestion. Two teachers in the Oakland high school are on this list.

The evening schools will open tonight. This term marks the beginning in Oakland of the system of neighborhood vocational high schools and the inner high school idea.

RENTAL PROBE URGED; PRICES ARE DEFENDED

Hotel and Apartment House
Owners Declare They Are Not to Blame for Increase in Rents; Deny Profiteering

Denying any profiteering intentions and holding themselves blameless in the general increase of hotel and apartment house rentals, hotel owners of the county today urged a city, federal, government or private investigation into the reasons for the raises. In an interview D. G. Gordon, acting business manager for the Hotel-Apartment Protective Association and spokesman for members of the organization, told of efforts made by his co-workers to keep down rentals.

"In fairness to the owners and managers of apartment houses," he said, "we request that you give this interview the same publicity as the one which appeared on the question of high rents in your paper of August 24, 1919."

"The International News Service, in a dispatch dated Washington, August 1, quotes among other items mentioned that the statistics revealed an increase in the cost of furniture and household furnishings of 125 per cent since 1915 and 43 per cent in fuel and lights. Our own records show that addition laundry has advanced 100 per cent, garbage removal 50 per cent, plumbing repairs, painting and decorating about 75 per cent. Labor in apartment houses shows an increase averaging 25 per cent."

SEVENTY PER CENT
"In these six important items of expense that goes into the operation and maintenance of an apartment house, the average increase since 1915 amounts to 70 per cent. The increase in telephone rates, which in many cases has been paid by the owners, shows that the cost of the telephone is not included in the recent increase in their rent for the building, which in many cases has advanced on account of the renewal of their lease."

"The increase in the cost of apartment and room has advanced from 10 per cent to 30 per cent since 1915, and this will stand a thorough investigation in Oakland and Berkeley."

"We all have endeavored to keep our rents down by buying only the necessary supplies and many have allowed the upkeep of the apartments, furniture and fixtures to be stationary. We find it impossible to continue along these lines without serious results and depreciating the value of our investment in the end."

"We know of no general increase in rents to go into effect October 1, but an adjustment in the present rates is being made by the individual owners, and managers of apartment houses, only in absolute cases of necessity, where rates for apartments are not consistent with the present cost of doing business."

"It is reasonable to fair to all concerned that an old tenant should only pay 10 per cent or 15 per cent above the rate charged in 1915, when the proprietor is paying an average increase of 70 per cent in the items entering into the cost of operation."

"We object to being classed as profiteers when we have done all within our power to assist in the housing problem and in no way have we taken advantage of the situation as a careful investigation will quickly disclose. We will welcome the assistance of any body or organization in helping us to get relief from the unpleasant situation in which we find ourselves and which we believe is beyond our control."

Jingle Jolts

(By Harvey E. Westgate)
The average man is bound to roam—he's not content to stay at home. For though he's doing fairly well, it's ten to one some day he'll sell his cow and horse, and house and lot, and seek some far more favored spot.

If he resides in Bangor, Maine, he says: "I'm tired of snow and rain." So off he goes to Boston, Mass., to find things just as bad, alas; and in a year, or two, or three, we find him down in Tennessee.

From there he jumps to New Orleans, few ducks left within his jaws. He feels depressed, like one who's lost, and straightway turns the south a frost; but as he wanders to and fro, he gets the itch for Mexico.

He tries El Paso and Des Moines, but somehow can't collect the coins. He goes to Lansing and Eau Claire, but fails to find real comfort there; and so, at last, he jumps a train and heads for HOME at Bangor, Maine.

LOOKING INTO THE 'MYSTIC MIRROR'

Into the mystic Mirror of the World gaze the hero and heroine of Jack London's "Hearts of Three," the serial to start in next Sunday's TRIBUNE. And here is what the crystal gazers see, told by the pen of the greatest novelist America has produced:

To Leonica was it given to see an ocean separate her and Francis. To Henry was it given to see the Queen and Francis married by so strange a ceremony, that scarcely did he realize, until at the close, that it was a wedding taking place.

The Queen, from a flying gallery in a great house, looked down into a magnificent drawing-room that Francis would have recognized as built by his father, had her vision been his. And, beside her, his arm about her, she saw Francis. Francis saw, but one thing, vastly perturbing, the face of Leonica, immobile as death, which thrust into it, squarely between the eyes, a slender-bladed dagger. Yet he did not see any blood flowing from the wound of the dagger.

Torres, glimpsed the beginning of what he knew must be his end, crossed himself, and alone of all of them shrank back, refusing to see further. While the Sun Priest saw the vision of his secret sin, the face and form of the woman he had betrayed the Worship of the Sun, and the face and form of the maid of the village at the Lane House.

All drew back by common consent when the visions faded. Leonica turned like a tigress, with flashing eyes, upon the Queen, crying: "Your mirror lies! Your Mirror of the World lies!"

$23,000 FIRE AT LIVERMORE; BLOCK GUTTED

Landing and Homes Ruined in Blaze That Starts in Old Theater; Fire Department Is Delayed; Smoking Blamed

LIVERMORE, Aug. 25.—Fire which began at 7 o'clock last evening destroyed a quarter of a block of buildings close to the business center of town, entailing a loss estimated at $23,000.

The largest loser was F. Deibeder, whose laundry was entirely destroyed, and whose residence nearly destroyed. His loss amounts to $20,000, with no insurance on the laundry. All the other buildings burned, however, were insured.

The fire started in the old theater building, later used as a skating rink, at the corner of Second and J streets, owned by the estate of the late P. H. McVicar. According to the authorities it was caused by a telephone operator's slowness in sending in the alarm when repeatedly asked to do so, the fire had gained great headway.

THE BUILDING LOST
The old, unused theater building was burned to the ground, as were also the laundry and the town's huge cut house adjoining, while the Deibeder residence, a dwelling owned and occupied by Mrs. Nancy Willis, sister of Fire Chief George Deib, were almost entirely destroyed.

Other dwellings in the block, all owned by the latter and one of them occupied by W. L. Torrey and another by R. O. Wagner, as well as Sam Williamson's home, were saved from the flames, but were in such danger that everything was taken out of them. Practically nothing was saved from the Deibeder laundry and residence except some money and account books.

CARELESS SMOKING BLAMED
The fire is supposed to have been caused by boys carelessly smoking while skating or playing in the old vacant theater building.

The fire, it was said today, has amply demonstrated to the townspeople the need of better fire-fighting facilities, and public opinion is expected to uphold the town trustees in their determination to increase the taxes about 15 to 20 per cent to purchase an automobile fire engine and install a district alarm system.

Plan Entertainment
for Post of Legion
BERKELEY, Aug. 25.—Special entertainment is being planned for tomorrow night for a meeting of the Berkeley post of the American Legion, which has been called for 8 o'clock in the council chambers at the city hall.

Vice-Chairman Harris Allen has assembled a string jazz orchestra composed of six-service men now attending the university, and the meeting will be interspersed with selections of the latest music.

Lieutenant Loy G. Thompson, who was with a machine gun unit in the A. E. F., has promised to tell some interesting and unusual experiences.

Speed Cops Set Net to Nab U. of C. Student Speeders

BERKELEY, Aug. 25.—Detailed by Chief of Police August Vollmer, at the request of Mayor Louis Bartlett, special "speed cops" were placed at entrances of the University of California campus today to arrest all student violators of local traffic laws.

Stationing of the officers comes as the result of numerous complaints reaching city officials of the noise made by student-driven automobiles and of infractions of local laws.

Punishment of the students, it is expected, will be placed in the hands of the students' affairs committee, which deals summarily with all college men and women coming before its members. According to residents along College avenue, the noise of student-driven machines has driven away all sleep from their doors since the opening of college.

ISLAND TRACT IS OFFERED AS
'PLANE FIELD'

Eight Hundred Acres of Bay
Farm Are Held Ideal for the Government's Purpose; is Near Proposed Naval Base

ALAMEDA, Aug. 25.—Eight hundred acres of Bay Farm island were offered to the United States government today for an airplane and hydroplane field. The Alameda Chamber of Commerce received news of the tender from the C. W. Wood Company of Oakland, with whom former Alameda Councilman W. J. Hammond is connected. The offer has already been formally submitted to the government.

The Bay Farm island tract is ideally situated for airplane and hydroplane field work and landing. The acreage is sufficient, the land is in splendid condition for immediate use and there are no wires, poles or other obstructions to interfere with free operation of aerial craft.

CLOSE TO PROPOSED BASE
The Bay Farm island site is also immediately adjacent to the Alameda naval base. If the base comes to Alameda, as is now confidently believed, it will be decidedly to the advantage of the navy to have a hydroplane field close to navy headquarters. The island is within a few minutes' ferry and train ride of San Francisco and Oakland. The extension of street car lines, lighting and water service etc., from Alameda, are minor problems as all these public services are already within a few blocks of the island.

THE 800 acres is original marsh land of yielding composition yet firm enough for permanent use the year around. It is protected from overflow of high tides, is perfectly level and is a clear, untrammeled field.

SMALL TRACT ALSO OFFERED
Recently the Oakland Water Front tract west of the train street was secured by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce for temporary use for naval hydroplane work. This tract, however, comprises but 342 acres and is regarded as too valuable for industrial purposes for permanent use as an airplane field.

The use of this tract has already been offered the government for use during the visit of the Pacific fleet. The Bay Farm island offer is open to immediate acceptance, with the additional permanent feature attached. Maps and description of the property have been forwarded with the tender.

BOYS.

A black and white cartoon illustration. At the top, a speech bubble from a man on the left contains the text: "THERE'S SOMETHING ABOUT THAT AUTOMOBILE PART THAT MUST BE VERY APPETIZING. BOYS." Below the speech bubble, four men in 1930s-style clothing (hats, suits, overcoats) are standing and looking down at a dog. The dog is on the ground, eating a large, rectangular car part, possibly a radiator or engine component. Motion lines around the dog and the car part suggest it is being eaten quickly. The man on the far right is holding a cane. The scene is set outdoors on a paved surface.

RODMAN'S AIDE ARRIVES TO PERFECT DETAILS OF FETE FLEET

VISITING SHIPS WILL CARRY 15,000 OFFICERS
AND MEN IN CREWSSkygrams Showered Over California
Towns Inviting Citizens to Be
Visitors in Oakland September 3

When the United States destroyer Tarbell arrived in San Francisco yesterday bringing Commander W. A. Snead, U. S. N., personal representative of Admiral Rodman, it was the signal for the completion of the final arrangements for the great naval pageant and review which will be staged in San Francisco waters Monday, September 1, when the Pacific fleet begins its historic entrance through the Golden Gate. Commander Snead has been instructed to outline the manner in which Admiral Rodman's armada shall proceed and be welcomed.

The Oregon flying the flag of the Secretary of the Navy will probably lay off the Marina, where it will be boarded by Secretary Daniels and his official party on the morning of September 1. As the long line of dreadnaughts and the flotilla of destroyers and types which are a part of the squadron form, it will be led through the Golden Gate by the New Mexico, flagship of Admiral Rodman giving the salute of nineteen guns when passing the Oregon. The Admiral's salute of seventeen guns will be returned by the Secretary's flagship. As each of the four warships bearing the Rear Admirals attached to the armada pass in review, the Oregon will repeat the seventeen guns. Salutes will be fired from the forts and responded to in order, spreading over the bay country a tremendous sound resembling some terrible naval engagement. Commander Snead has put his approval upon the proposed program for the bay cities greetings.

15,000 MEN IN CREWS.
The Pacific squadron will bear through the Golden Gate at least 15,000 men, according to the estimates of Commander Snead. One-half of the personnel will be given shore-leave each day of the fleet's sojourn in this harbor.

Admiral Rodman will lead the fleet from Monterey to San Francisco bay along the coast at 4 o'clock next Sunday afternoon, according to a radio received from Secretary of the Navy Daniels. Secretary Daniels aboard the New York will join the armada at Monterey, arriving about noon on Sunday, remaining until 6:25 p. m., when he will leave by train for San Francisco. The change in the tentative time has been made that he might have ample time to board the Oregon and join the Pacific fleet outside the head.

Skygrams inviting the West to Oakland were showered this morning in all the country between here and Monterey by Frank R. Darrow, secretary of Oakland's Welcome Committee, making the trip with Aviator George V. Grey, at an altitude of 4000 feet. Fuller Newton, master mechanic, made the parallel journey on motorcycle, ready for any emergency which might prevent an airplane.

An irritable and faultfinding disposition is often caused by indigestion. A man with good digestion and howls that the regulars is usually good natured. NAZIMOVA, THE STATUSQUE
DISPORTS AS A FUZZY BUNNY

"Uncle Wiggly" Makeup is the Fault of Local Dramatist.

The stately Nazimova, famous in the plays of Ibsen and noted for "highbrow" dramatic art in the past, is going to reform. She's going to do a "jazz dance," dressed up as a "fuzzy rabbit," she's going to enact an American chorus girl, with "trimmings"—and it's all the fault of an Oakland playwright.

Nazimova has just finished filming her version of "The Rat," play by Maude Fulton, Oakland dramatist. But she's created a new Nazimova thereby that no one would ever recognize. "Art for art's sake," Nazimova says is her motto, and if Art calls for a celebrated Russian actress dressing up as a "fuzzy rabbit" a la "Uncle Wiggly," she says she's not the woman to hesitate at that to art. She didn't even hesitate at her costume in "The Red Lantern"—a string of beads—so why the rabbit skin?

Nazimova picked out the Oakland author's play despite protests from her directors that it wasn't the thing at all for her, but from advance reports the directors have changed their minds.

Nurses who served during the world war will be presented with medals at an impressive ceremony which will be a feature of the reception arranged for the evening of September 1 at the Palace Hotel in honor of the war nurses by the San Francisco Meet Courtesy committee and the Pacific Coast Field Committee. Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Josephus A. Daniels, wife of Secretary of the Navy, will be a distinguished guest on that occasion. A large number of Eastbay young women will receive the medals.

Wireless Operator
is Home From War

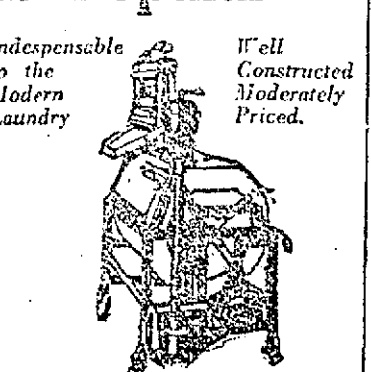

ALAMEDA, Aug. 25.—Guy Young, Alameda service man, is home from military service. He was a wireless operator at the Virgin Islands during most of his wartime work. He reached home Saturday, following his brother, who returned to Alameda a few weeks ago.

Richard Spence, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Spence of 2550 Santa Clara avenue, reached home last night after being discharged from service. His brother, a popular high school boy, died from the influenza while the elder brother was in service.

153 CARLOADS
OF ARMY FOOD
ON WAY WEST

All is in readiness in the tent at the Defenders' Recreation Club, Thirteenth and Harrison streets, for the distribution of the army food as soon as it arrives. That time, however, is still problematical.

Army officials say that 153 cars should reach Fort Mason by Wednesday, and with this supply on hand an effort will be made to fill the orders. More than $50,000 worth have been turned in already through the postoffices and eight items on the general list are exhausted, which means that refunds must be made.

Small sizes of canned goods have been snapped up most eagerly by the crowds, it is said.

Postmasters have been notified to accept nothing but money orders and checks, to avoid complicated bookkeeping.

The "fair profits" committee, organized by Frank D. Stringham, acting in the absence of Ralph P. Merritt, former food administrator for California, will hold its first meeting tomorrow. This committee will not set arbitrary prices, but will study the situation intensively and attempt to place a moral check on profiteers.

Mufflers Kept Open
in Berkeley; 2 Fined

BERKELEY, Aug. 25.—Got your muffler closed down tight? If not, stay away from Berkeley.

For the cops are getting 'em all from today on.

Charles De Salvatore, a chauffeur of 533 Greenwich street, San Francisco, and Peter Laines, shoe worker of 5375 San Pablo avenue, were the first arrested today. De Salvatore was fined $5 for the additional offense of cutting a corner, while Laines paid $2 into the city treasury.

Spirit of Unrest
Is Aftermath of War—Vanderlip

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.

—That the present unrest in the social and industrial world is largely due to the belief by the citizens of the United States that "industry and thrift are no longer virtues," was the statement of Frank J. Vanderlip, former president of the National City Bank of New York and chairman of the American International Corporation, who arrived at the Palace Hotel here today.

"We are rich through the war and are attaining a dangerous pre-imminence which is acting as an exhilarant that is largely responsible for the present industrial and social unrest. We are like rich men's sons, having had everything that we wanted, we expect this utopian condition to continue. The only way that Europe can pay its huge debt will be to grant foreign countries more credit and continue our exports to readjust normal conditions there devastated by the war."

Stories of Great War
Told at U. C. by Bangs

BERKELEY, Aug. 25.—Humorous and tragic stories of what American soldiers did in France to bring the great war to a close were related this morning to several thousand students at the University of California by John Kendrick Bangs, author, lecturer and humorist. All university classes were suspended during the hour of the meeting.

MARKET DAY TO ATTRACT
MANY BUYERS

Another proof—if one were needed—that Oakland wears its heart in the right place is the spontaneous response that has been made to the appeal of the Ladies' Relief Society for offers of contributions to its great Market Day, Saturday, September 13, that looms up as the Big Day after the passing of the fleet fiesta.

Every big-hearted Oaklander will buy his Sunday dinner at the gay booths that shall encircle the City Hall Plaza.

Already offers of jellies and cookies and fruits and cakes are at hand and loads and loads of flowers. But tons more are needed to make comfortable those 100 children in the Home and the group of old ladies who in large measure are dependent upon the Home for their care.

Caring for a household of 150 is something of a problem and it is to meet the needs that the board of managers is planning the Market Day.

In addition to the committees already announced are these over which Mrs. H. C. Bougher, Mrs. M. L. Woolley of Berkeley and Mrs. Thornton Blackburn will preside, each with large committees—Mrs. Woolley, the purveyor of soaps, which are not exactly in line with edibles, but are salable and therefore desirable; Mrs. Blackburn to dispense a brand of molasses candy that has won honors far and near, and Mrs. Brougher, the flower booth.

About thirty booths have already completed their schemes for decoration and the personnel of the sales staff.

If you saw it in THE TRIBUNE, tell them so. Thank you.

Oakland Industries

Oakland is becoming more and more an industrial city. New factories are springing up, bringing work for thousands of operatives. The California Cotton Mills was one of the pioneers in this field. Established in 1883, their plant now covers fourteen acres, and they employ about 1500 operatives, with a monthly payroll of from $90,000 to $100,000. It would be difficult to estimate the value to the community of this enterprise.

Another pioneer in its line is—

THE OAKLAND BANK

which has been furnishing banking service to Oakland manufacturers and commercial houses for over 50 years; growing with and for the city.

A live bank with a progressive but safe policy, we offer the benefit of our experience to Oakland's business men and the same courteous service to the small depositor as to the big industry.
